A community focused organization providing services to people to develop skills and quality of life. We serve people with disabilities, acquired brain injury and families at risk. Programs include: Family Support provides 1 to 1 support to families who have children with special health and developmental concerns. Support ranges from transitional planning, funding, advocating, listening, providing resources, referrals and problem solving. Jobs4Youth - provides job coaching support and employment placement assistance to youth with special health and developmental concerns. Kandu Summer Camp: Children ages 7-17 attend this active, inclusive, recreational summer program in Camrose to learn new skills, explore new interest and meet new friends. Families have peace of mind that staff have skills and expertise to meet the needs of children with special health and development concerns. Leaders-in-Training: youth aged 15 - 24 with special health and developmental concerns work to develop their skills and citizenship, including self-awareness, volunteerism, work experience and community involvement. Residential Program: adults with disabilities receive the support they require in their home. It is a supervised environment where each person develops skills and builds quality of life. Support Homes: private home providers are contracted to provide unique living options for adults. Ranging from room and board, an independent living suite, or living in an apartment with a roommate, the Home Provider provides support to the individual as needed. Outreach: supports adults to live as independently as possible. Individuals may live in their own home or apartment or with a family member. Support staff helps with certain areas of daily living (e.g., medical, budgeting, meal planning, etc.). MORE: Provides meaningful activities during the day for adults with disabilities who are not seeking employment. Activities range from recreational, educational, social, etc. Rose Club: This member driven club is for adults with disabilities to socialize, learn new things, and enjoy quality activities together.

Healthy Family Facilitators work in partnership with families to provide information and support for prenatal care and its role in a healthy pregnancy, encourages positive and responsive parenting through building on strengths, promotes child well-being and nurtures healthy development of children during the early years of life through home visitation services. You may be eligible to receive services if you are pregnant or recently had a baby or are actively parenting a child who is 0 - 3 years old, available for home visits. We also provide long-term support in response to the concern of substance use during pregnancy. Home visitors work directly with participants offering personalized services for up to 3 years. You can expect support to improve health of women and their children, making steps towards a healthy independent lifestyle, connecting women to resources in their community. You may be eligible to receive services if you are pregnant or up to 6 months postpartum, self-report alcohol and/or drug use during pregnancy, are ineffectively engaged with community or have delivered a child with fetal alcohol spectrum disorder and/or using alcohol in childbearing years. The Healthy Families program is free and voluntary. Referrals are welcome from everyone

If you like toe-tapping jazz tunes from the early '30s and on, delivered in a brassy blast, you'll get what you came for with this energetic group. This 18-piece band shows up with all of the old favourites in tune, and peppers some contemporary favourites in every gig.

Started in 2015, Battle River Big Band is primarily comprised of band and music teachers, and seasoned musicians, living in the communities in and around Camrose and Wetaskiwin. As the Battle River runs through or near these centres, the name suits this band to a tee.

The band has performed in Camrose at the Bailey Theatre, and downtown during Jaywalkers' Jamboree. Their next performance will take place on May 13 in Wetaskiwin, at the First United Church.
